

African Safari

28.8.18

African safari is an expedition to observe animals in their natural habitat.

Little Montessorians got the opportunity to witness ecosystems, weather patterns, and wildlife in an authentic environment all without leaving the classroom through a skype session with Wild earth school drive South Africa. Safari LIVE is an award-winning daily live-stream of a real safari broadcasted from Kruger National Park South Africa and the Maasai Mara National Reserve Kenya.

Experienced guides escorted classroom on an unscripted virtual field trip where it was completely unknown what wild animals, students will encounter on the expedition. They enthusiastically observed different types of vegetation, animal's natural habitat, their eating pattern and paw prints and were enthralled to see African animals like hyena, lioness, wildebeest, zebra, grey crowned crane. Curious Montessorians asked some interesting questions and the same were answered by the resource persons. Peculiar details like 'lion's age can be determined by the colour of its eyes' and many other interesting facts were also shared by the experts.

'An authentic experience in nature with one of the most beautiful places on the Earth.'
