

Liberty House Assembly

‘To be free is not merely to cast off limitations of learning, it means to be responsible, live in a way that respect and enhance your skills ,knowledge and of others too, to make difference, one must initiate positive resolutions with liberty. The students of Liberty House took the initiative to conduct the morning assembly on 17 May.

The main theme of the assembly was embarked upon by two anchors Isha Negi and Danish Ranjan who beautifully conveyed the message to the audience. The message was further highlighted through a short skit which depicted that one must be receptive and open-minded to acquire knowledge, enlighten self, initiate same to others to make difference, grow aware, and prosper in life. The students presented their views on, how positive actions, little sharing can bring a difference to their and other's lives as well. All the students participated with great enthusiasm. The recitation of motivational poem inspired the audience to keep going, aim high and widen the horizons of learning. Lipika Dua extended gratitude to all facilitators. The assembly was concluded with recitation of a melodious song which infused a feeling of positivity and inspired the listeners to change the world and bring revolution with their positive deeds.
