DATE-25.06.20

“Today a reader, Tomorrow a leader”.

Learning to read is arguably the most important experience students will have during their school years. To inculcate the habit of reading and exhibit their talent, MAPS Montessori organised an interactive reading session for the students of Mont I and Mont II. The session witnessed many literary activities like picture Sequencing cards, reading story, question answers with picture cards that provided ample opportunities to the students to interact and express their views on the story and sharpen their language and histrionic skills. The students thoroughly enjoyed the session as it ignited the minds of the young learners. It was indeed an enriching and fun filled day for the students which ended with great satisfaction and success.
