

MORNING ASSEMBLY

Class-I D

Date: 13.02.2019

To respect parents is next to god

The best security blanket a child can have is parents who respect each other. –

Jane Blqustone

The assembly highlighted the importance of parents in their lives and to give respect and honor them everywhere.

The assembly started with the thought for the day, the news headlines, two songs for parents, inspirational quotes, a short film, a small skit on Lord Ganesha , and a dance performance.

The class teacher gave the meaningful message as to always regard their parents and elders too. Every student enjoyed and was overwhelmed. They promised that they will value their parents and will look after them. Use of props, projector and banners were also used to support their presentation.
