

Reading session by Parents

(16.9.2019)

The children, we think, are clean slates but often we don't realize that before breaking the four walls of their homes and coming out to get the hands on experience of real life, they've already seen the world through the eyes of their parents. The parents who read the stories about fairies, monsters, and a wonderland give us a starting point to create better citizens and to lead the children towards a bright future.

Today, MAPS family welcomed a team of parents who felt proud not to read to their children for the first time and instead helped the kids to read for themselves. A reading session was therefore organized by the parents in each section of class 1 and 2. We would like to thank all the parents for being a part of this, after all,

“WHAT BETTER GIFT THAN THE GIFT OF READING”
