

RECYCLED WORDS

“Vocabulary enables us to interpret and to express. If you have a limited vocabulary, you will also have a limited vision and a limited future

On 11.07.2018, an activity was conducted in class 1, in which the students had to make a few new word from a given word.. The main aim for conducting such activity is to develop their vocabulary skills by making new words.

The class was divided into four groups. The students were given words like elephant, Grandmother, Examinations, etc. They were supposed to make as many words as possible from the given word. There was a time limit and a letter can be used for more than one time also. Words can be either of two, three or four letters.

The children actively participated in the activity. They learnt many new words from one single word. And a good peer relation was seen as they help each other in making new words and also help in correcting others also.

This activity was held in order to make our children self-reliant and self-sufficient in developing vocabulary skills.

“The more students learn high utility words the better they will be able to comprehend any text that contains those words or similar ones.
